"The Builders," Longfellow's poem, lays the foundation for our 1955 Clarion. We are the workers in "these walls of time"—our high school, the builder. In its vast realm lie knowledge, sportsmanship, and tools of learning eagerly waiting to be used. Its many ideals and traditions are the bricks which form "the structure" in which we have spent "our todays and yesterdays." All these materials for growth, supervised by our planning architects, the faculty, are laid throughout these pages in classes, organizations, athletics and events.

THE BUILDERS

—Longfellow

All are architects of Fate,
Working in these walls of Time;
Some with massive deeds and great,
Some with ornaments of rhyme.

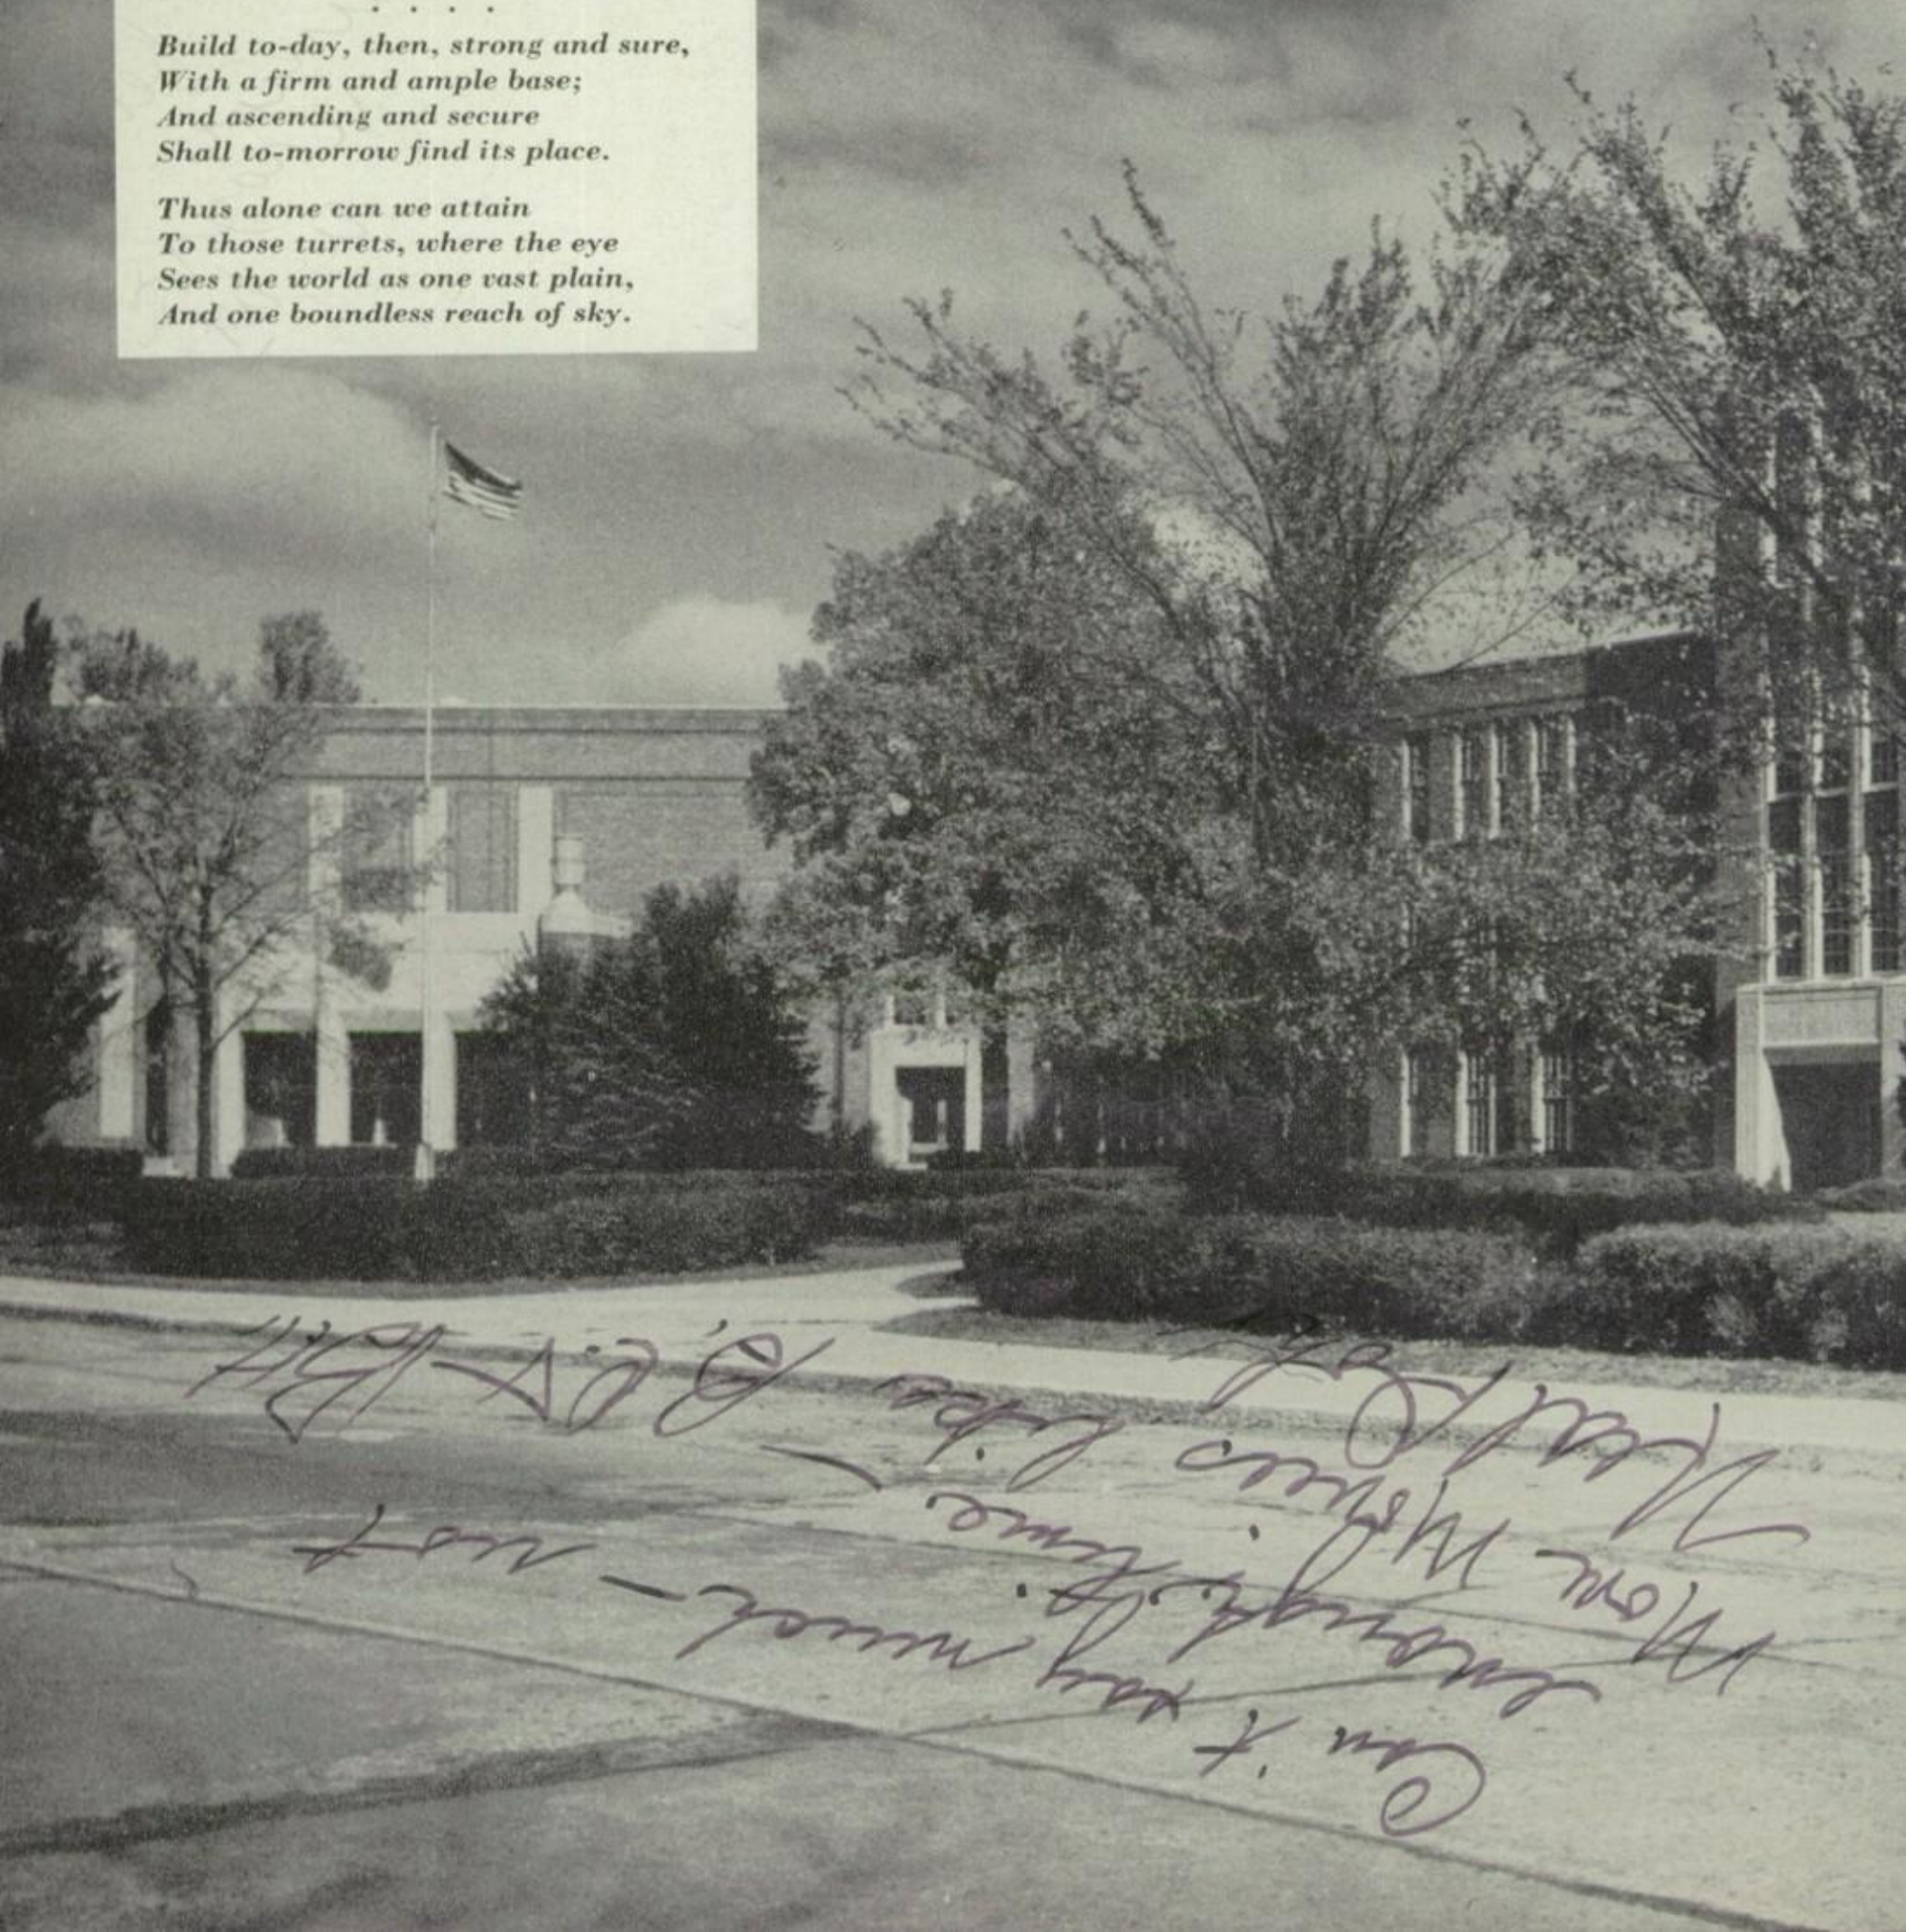

Nothing useless is, or low;
Each thing in its place is best;
And what seems but idle show
Strengthens and supports the rest.

For the structure that we raise,
Time is with materials filled;
Our to-days and yesterdays
Are the blocks with which we build.

Build to-day, then, strong and sure,
With a firm and ample base;
And ascending and secure
Shall to-morrow find its place.

Thus alone can we attain
To those turrets, where the eye
Sees the world as one vast plain,
And one boundless reach of sky.

How a simple fellow

We Dedicate

Miss Ruth Mielke

To Miss Mielke and Miss Kopplin whom we admire and respect, we proudly dedicate the 1955 Clarion. Each has given unselfishly of herself and her talents to serve the youth of Appleton High School.

During her thirty-four years of devoted service, Miss Mielke has not only advised the library staff but has strongly influenced the students to read and enjoy the great literature of the world. She has made our library the helpful and cheerful source of learning it is.

Miss Elsie Kopplin

A teacher of the classics who has served as language department head and adviser to the Latin Club, Miss Kopplin has in her sixteen years at Appleton High School stimulated her students to understand Latin and appreciate Roman history and civilization. More than this, she has guided, encouraged, and inspired many students to an attainment beyond their goals.

We of Appleton High School will always remember the privilege that has been ours as students to work with and know each one as a teacher and friend.

He lives in our hearts

In Memoriam

SIDNEY COTTON

He was courageous. He believed to the end. He was loyal.

He served gladly. He devoted much time and energy to school and community affairs. He gave generously of his talents.

He displayed humor. He was genial and approachable. He believed in sports and in nature.

He loved youth and people. He cherished his friendships.

His character leaves a deep imprint upon the lives in our school and community. He was a teacher.

Our administration helps to run

The Appleton School System is ably headed by Mr. John P. Mann, Superintendent of Schools. He is assisted by the Board of Education and together they solve the many problems of our schools.

On the shoulders of our principal, Mr. Helble, lies the great responsibility of running our school smoothly. Inspiring to us all is the fact that despite this full-time position, he always finds time to reach the students and faculty personally. Appleton High School continually grows under the guiding hand of our principal as he initiates new ideas and successfully carries them out.

Versatility and Mr. Witte go hand in hand. Not only is he our assistant principal and Dean of Boys, but he also manages the Athletic Department and teaches in the Social Science Department.

A ready smile is characteristic of Miss Wolf, Dean of Girls, who is always happy and willing to help the students with their problems. Her work also includes giving special vocational guidance to the seniors and advising the A.H.S. Student Council.

our school efficiently.

The efficiency with which the school office is run is due to the competency of our office staff, Mrs. Jean Swick, Mrs. Ruth Wynen, and Mrs. Violet Plaman, who was replaced at mid-year by Mrs. Hazel Halstrom.

We can justly be proud of the fine appearance of our school buildings and grounds. The students, inspired by the good example of Mr. Lewis Jury and his custodians, co-operate to keep A.H.S. immaculate at all times.

ENGLISH

The goal of the English department is to train each student so that he is capable of demonstrating proficiency in the understanding and use of English. To accomplish this, Appleton High School requires two years of English. The desire for better literature is stimulated by classroom libraries and various projects such as movies, dramatizations and displays.

Besides the full time English staff, Miss Elizabeth Plowright, of the social science department, and Mrs. Jean Pooler, of the science department, also teach sophomore and junior English classes. Miss Ruth Mielke and Miss Ethelwyn Baerwaldt have charge of the library. Under their competent supervision, the students have many hours of quiet study and help in finding the information they are seeking.

This year, under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Plowright, experimental efforts were made in the field of integrated studies to co-ordinate American History and English. The aim of this program is to help students gain a more meaningful understanding of American literature through a realization that it is a part of America's history and an outgrowth and record thereof.

COMMERCIAL

The commercial department of Appleton High School is recognized for its outstanding contribution to the business world. Here students have endless opportunities for job placements after being well trained in practical skills and such techniques as office machines and filing procedures. A group of well trained bookkeepers, typists, stenographers and secretaries are graduated each year.

HEALTH

The physical education department of Appleton High School endeavors to improve the health, growth, muscular development and skill in the physical activities of all students. Through the numerous exercises and seasonal sports which are a part of the physical education classes, the value of good health and sportsmanship is stressed.

Further emphasis is placed on health by Mrs. O'Keefe, our school nurse, who teaches senior girls home hygiene, a course in the theory of nursing skills.

SCIENCE

From the time we learn the difference between a maple leaf and an oak leaf until we begin to understand the theory of evolution, the importance of science cannot be underestimated in this atomic age. Not only do these courses encourage the students to reason for themselves, but also to reach conclusions from their own observations. Through these studies students become acquainted with light, heat, electricity and the intricacies of the human body.

An important aim of the science department is to introduce our students to the most needed fields of science.

SOCIAL SCIENCE

The social science department aims to give us, as future citizens of the United States, a clearer picture of the social, economic, and political problems of the past and future. Before us are unfolded our great heritages, portrayed in the bloodshed of many of our fellowmen. Little do we know and appreciate the peoples of our world. Only through learning the customs and habits of other countries will we understand and make our country a better place in which to live. With this kind of knowledge, which can be acquired at A.H.S., we can meet the challenge of the future with courage and hope.

FINE ARTS

Appleton High School strives to stimulate an appreciation of the finer arts of music, dramatics and art. Some of the highlights of the music department this year were the Christmas concert, programs for outside activities, and the music festival which was held in Neenah. The speech department offers some very profitable experiences. Students participate in dramatics, debate, oratory, declamation and extemporaneous speaking. In the art department students are given an opportunity to express themselves through the study of painting, design, three-dimensional work, and crafts.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Could you imagine what it was like in primitive times when the only tool of industrial processes was a wooden block on the end of a stick as a form of hammer? No, it is nearly impossible for us to realize the simplicity of that tool in comparison to the modern industrial shops at A.H.S. Our shops provide ample opportunities through actual experiences for students to find their own interests and aptitudes in these particular lines. These courses are carefully designed with Auto Mechanics and Mechanical Drawing to greet the sophomore, and Architectural Drawing and Advanced Cabinet Making to bid the senior farewell. These classes lay the stepping stones in assisting the student with his life's work. Nevertheless, if this vocation is not chosen the study remains definitely valuable because this experience can provide an avocation for the student interested in this field.

LANGUAGE AND MATHEMATICS

Would you believe that language is one of the most important subjects in our schools? The learning of most other subjects depends on the student's understanding of language. This understanding may be more easily obtained by means of the study of a foreign language. A large per cent of the English language has been derived through the centuries from many different dialects. It is through languages that students become acquainted with customs, famous people and works of literature, thereby instilling an appreciation and understanding of different cultures.

The mathematics department at Appleton High School strives to prepare its students for college work and for positions in the business world. Students may encounter the simplicity of algebra with its letters and negative numbers to the more complex study to the relationship of triangles in trigonometry. The courses are designed to sharpen the thinking and reasoning ability of the student, as well as to bringing about an understanding of the formulas and basic fundamentals.

MR. HUBERT WETAK

Our stepping stones to the future.

HOME ECONOMICS

The Home Economics department is one course at Appleton High School which stimulates an appreciation of home life and its activities, and provides an opportunity for future homemakers to handle typical home situations. This study stresses the development of good taste and judgment in the selection and care of clothing. Meal planning, food preparation, and nutrition are also an important part of the course. All these phases of the home economics course are vital factors in providing a good home, which is the foundation of our society.

CAFETERIA

It is the responsibility of Mrs. Mabel Schwartz, the director of the cafeteria, to prepare a delicious luncheon for many famished students and teachers of Appleton High School. Each morning she plans a well-balanced variety of nutritious food which appeals to the appetites of the students staying for lunch. The cafeteria provides sufficient food for approximately two hundred students daily. Nevertheless, when the occasion arises nearly three hundred fifty people can easily be served. However, Mrs. Schwartz does not perform this superhuman task alone, for she is assisted by Mrs. Beatrice Hansen and student help.

SENIORS

To me of our simple sophs - glad to have met you this year soph real nice knowing you. Had lots of fun chasing you to Biology "... And ascending and secure (hew) & hope you didn't mind Shall tomorrow find its place." all the teasing.

Hope you don't get lost this summer and have a good time, Take it easy on the sophs you big fr(?) and don't corner any of those innocent

Best of luck in 56 and all the years to follow there's a cheer to 57 but the class of 55 was better.

The year in picture and story.

SEATED: Becker, Briese, Schwebs, Ka., Rosenberg.
STANDING: Saiberlich, M., Miller, Car., Blank, Selig.

Dances, parties, classes, plays and organizations are among the year's happenings brought to you with pictures and stories by the Clarion Editorial Staff.

The Monday night meetings included workshops and explanations by the staff editors. In addition to the regular meetings, the staff spent long hours trying to meet its deadlines. One of the high-lights of the year was the social gathering of the editorial and business staffs at the Christmas Party.

Students are admitted to the staff on the basis of fall tryouts in which they are asked to submit stories, captions and letters of application. The entries are judged by the associate editors.

This year's editor was Mary Root. Associate editors were, events, Edith Esbenson; classes, Barbara Keating; organizations, Judy Polisky; photography, Mark Cohen; and art, Kari Bonini, with Lois Nowak and Bonnie O'Brian, in charge of index and faculty respectively. Faculty advisers were Mrs. Caroline Sullivan and Mrs. Jean Pooler.

We mean business.

"Have you checked on that ad?" and "Who has turned in the most sponsorships?" are questions familiar to anyone on the Clarion Business Staff. Room 219 was the scene of much sixth hour activity when the co-sponsorship managers Judy Crane and Joan Van Lyssel, who assigned solicitations, conducted meetings and recorded sponsorships, met with the other managers to check the progress of the various staffs. Marlene Rammer, business manager, kept a record of business transactions, Jo Anne Steege, subscription manager, took subscriptions from teachers and students not in the activities plan and supervised the distribution of the book, while Dianne Steen handled the sponsors' accounts and the billing.

Students were admitted to the staff after obtaining ten sponsorships from townspeople and businessmen.

This staff, under the supervision of Miss Elizabeth Plowright, is satisfied with its year's activities only when a copy of the "Clarion" is in the hands of each subscriber.

They keep the presses rolling

An eagerly awaited event at Appleton High School is the weekly appearance of the school paper, the "Talisman."

Among the duties of the reporters are the weekly assignments of interviewing and story writing. The editors, with sixth hour free for "Tally" work, have the task of assigning organizing and editing all the stories.

News, the largest section of the "Tally" occupies the first and third pages and includes stories which enlighten the student body on school activities. Page two contains the editorials, gossip columns and feature stories. A run-down on school games and intramurals is found on the sports page.

The staff, advised by Miss Marjorie Williams and Mr. E. John Goodrich, consisted of co-editors Sandra Lemke and Richard Hamilton; feature editor Michele Matthews and sports editor John Mullen.

Miss Williams and editors, Richard Hamilton, Mike Mathews, John Mullen and Sandra Lemke check over "Tally."

Barbara Ecker, Mary Earling, Mr. Krueger, Joyce Heimmerman, and Mary Frieders study the "Tally" as Audrey Bergman and Judy Anderson look on.

The work of the "Talisman" Business Staff is carried on so efficiently that we seldom stop to appreciate their problems and accomplishments. This important half of "Tally" is divided into three sections. The largest staff, advertising, sends its members to various business firms in the area to make contracts for ads. This is the chief source of income for the printing expense. The circulation division is responsible for the distribution of the "Tally" to student activity members, faculty, custodians, subscribers and to other high schools.

Paying the bills and keeping a complete financial record for "Tally" is a further responsibility of the business staff.

Advertising manager for the year was Judy Anderson. Audrey Bergman and Mary Frieders were co-business managers and Barbara Ecker and Joyce Heimmerman were co-circulation managers. Faculty adviser was Mr. Bruno Krueger.

QUILL AND SCROLL

"Patterns of Stardust," the annual publication of the Edward Weismiller Chapter of Quill and Scroll, constitutes a major part of this honorary society's activities for the year.

Students who have completed a year of outstanding work on a publications staff and who have been recommended to this organization by their respective advisers, comprise the membership.

At Quill and Scroll's monthly meetings, speakers with a message for journalists were featured. Another activity that the members looked forward to was the annual Christmas Musicales and Mothers' tea, a tradition in this organization.

The officers this year included Mary Root, president; Joanne Boettcher, vice president; Janet McBain, secretary; and Marlene Rammer, treasurer. Faculty advisers were Miss Landreman and Miss Robichaud.

CAMERA CLUB

To members of the Camera Club, "Hold the pose" and "Shutterbug" are familiar phrases, as familiar as the most complicated parts of a camera.

The club's main purpose is to create an interest in photography and to teach the fundamentals and techniques of the art.

Field trips, speakers and darkroom work were designed to provide an educational program. Selling football and basketball pictures taken and printed by the club, sponsoring the all-school photo contest were the profitable club activities.

Officers were Bruce Chapman, president; Sandra Schlafke, vice president; Mary Halverson, secretary; Clyde Park, treasurer; and Mr. Vernon Zimmerman, faculty adviser.

NATURE CLUB

The cryptic museum on the fourth floor of Appleton High School is the focal point of our Nature Club. Each member takes an active part in the upkeep and enlargement of it.

Annual Christmas gifts from the Nature Club to A.H.S. are the beautiful handmade yuletide wreaths. The entire club goes to Center Swamp to gather evergreen boughs for this project.

Through the year, meetings, consisting of speakers, movies, tape recordings, and informal talks by club members were presented to the organization with the annual spring picnic as the climax of the year's activities.

Under the very able direction of Mr. Scribner and club officers Sandra Schlafke, president; John Leonard, vice president; Barbara Hackbert, treasurer, and Sharon Baumgartner, secretary, the club had a very entertaining and prosperous year.

Voice of the People

A new project, bringing two foreign exchange students to enroll in our school for a year, was under the direction of the Student Council. An after-game dance sponsored by the seniors, a student-faculty basketball game sponsored by the juniors, and a junior high dance sponsored by the sophomores were among the projects undertaken to finance the exchange. This group was also responsible for planning the lyceums, student council dances, and choosing the guidance films for next year.

The council, which was an active and going organization from the first day of school until graduation, was guided by Jack Close, president; John Harriman, vice-president; Mary Root, secretary-treasurer; and Carl Schwendler and Bruce Benson, sergeants-at-arms. Faculty advisers were Miss Wolf and Mr. Helble.

Reel Men

Keeping the cameras rolling is the important job of the Appleton High School Audio-Visual Aids Club under the advisership of Mr. Harold Briese. During the year the members operated movie machines, the public address system, tape recorders, playbacks, film strip machines and projectors.

In the fall, students applying for membership were taught the fundamentals of running and caring for the machines. On a given date, they were tested and scholastically eligible applicants who passed this test were then admitted to the club.

Benefit movies such as "Miracle on 34th Street," and "Harvey" were among the money making projects the club sponsored. Featured on the club's social program were a Christmas party and a picnic at the end of the year.

Officers of the club were: Terry Thorson and Jim Mackesy, co-presidents; Dave Bruch, vice-president; Sid Miller, secretary; Tom Balza, treasurer; and Bob La Rose, sergeant-at-arms.

ORCHESIS

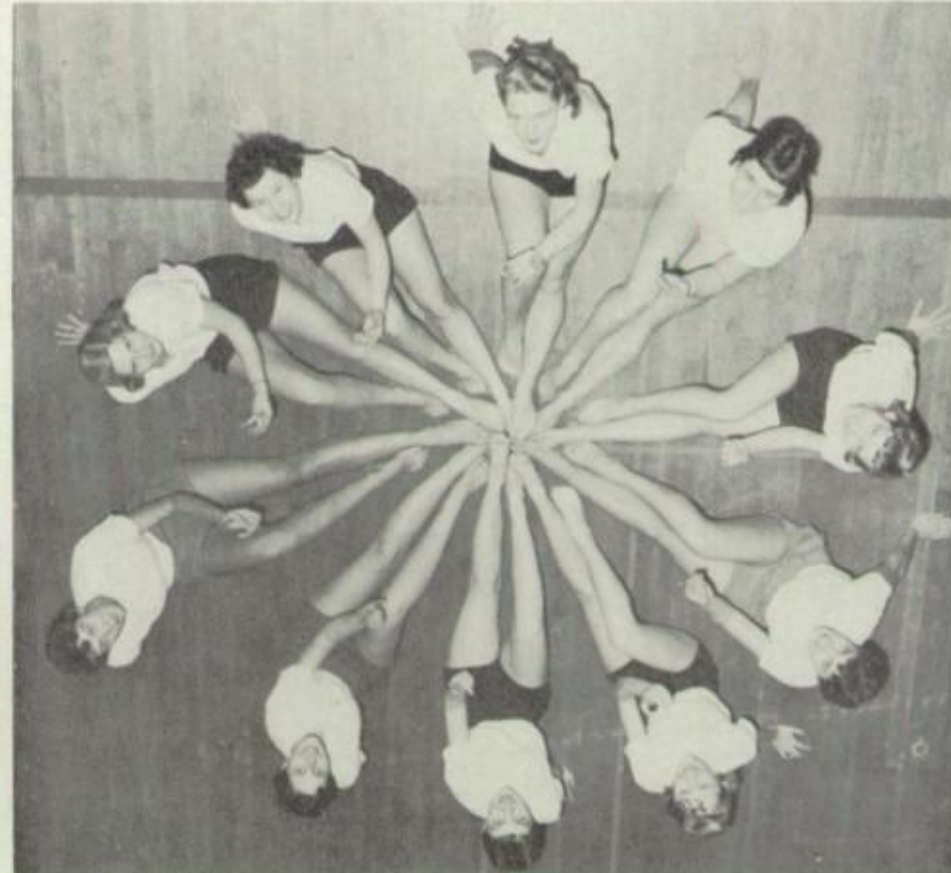

On April 25, Orchesis put on its annual program, "Choreography," of interpretive dances created by the members of this organization. Performances were given for both the student body and the public.

To become a member of Orchesis one must attend a series of five lessons on the fundamentals of modern dance. At the close of this five-week period the prospective members are asked to review these fundamentals as well as to present an original composition before the members of the club. It is on the basis of these performances that the new members are selected.

Presiding over the weekly Tuesday night meetings were: Mona Olson, president; Mary Root, vice president; Colleen Christenson, secretary; Nancy Goehler, treasurer; with Joan Benton, historian. Club adviser was Miss Patricia Gibbons.

ART WORKSHOP

The scene was laid in Room 306, the characters being the members of Art Workshop. The atmosphere was one of creative activity. The challenge facing the cast was the deadline for the "Patterns of Stardust" illustrations. As usual the club came through with flying colors, bringing to a close another year of such artistic accomplishments as a student art exhibit, the completion of oil paintings and several successful field trips.

Leading Art Workshop were: Sally Fraser, president; Jane Roehr, vice-president; Beatrice Le Moine, secretary-treasurer. Mr. Kenneth Kuemmerlein advised the club.

DEBATE

"Resolved that the Federal Government should initiate a policy of free trade among nations friendly to the United States" was the statement on which A.H.S. debaters based their arguments, both pro and con, this past year.

Under the supervision of Mr. Hubert Wetak, the training of the debaters began in October with a preparation period consisting of reading and general practice.

The season formally opened on December 14, when Appleton debated at Neenah High School. The next invitational was held at Sheboygan, followed by a meet on January 29 at Kaukauna. Finally, on February 5, the tournament for the Oshkosh district was held at Neenah.

At an assembly program on February 14, the A.H.S. team debated with the affirmative team of Neenah High School. This brought to a close a successful season of debating at Appleton High School.

LIBRARY STAFF

The job of student librarian involves a good deal of work behind the scenes, with little glory or fame. A librarian must be skilled in a particular phase of library work, such as clerical work, art work, and management of periodical rooms. For this reason the student library workers who make up the Library Staff are seniors chosen from among the scholastic leaders in Appleton High School.

Twelve of the staff members capably handled the circulation desks while three others took charge of all the clerical duties. Art work was put in the capable hands of two talented students in the art department. Finally, the duties in the magazine room and the work room, where material is processed, were handled by two other students.

Under the supervision of Miss Ruth Mielke and Miss Ethelwynn Baerwaldt, the Library Staff completed another year of valuable service to the students.

RADIO FORUM WORKSHOP

"Furthering radio broadcasting and public speaking among high school students" is the objective of Radio Forum Workshop. An excellent example of their work was the commemorative program presented on the nation's first Veterans' Day to an appreciative audience.

In addition to broadcasting the "Tally" substitute programs and dance publicity skits, the clubs presented a number of radio programs over the local station, WHBY.

Presiding over the meetings on the last Monday of the month were: Jack Close and Sandra Lemke, co-presidents; Edith Esbensen, secretary; and John Harriman, treasurer. Club advisers were Mr. Kenneth Edge and Mr. E. John Goodrich.

USHERS CLUB

Have you been looking for a club filled with glamor, thrills, and excitement? If you discover you've been doing just that, the place for you is the Ushers Club. As a member of the club you are eligible to usher at all school functions. Included in these activities are the annual Senior Class Play, and Commencement.

Looked forward to by everyone is the series of Neenah Rotary presentations. This past year the highlight of this series came with a program which headlined Marge and Gower Champion and Harry Belafonte, along with the voices of Walter Schumann.

Presiding over meetings this past year were Mary Root, president; Sandra Lemke, vice-president; Donna Blankenburg, secretary; Mildred Bubolz, treasurer; Esther Chapnitzky and Mary Zanzig, board members. Advising the club was Mr. Kenneth Edge.

LATIN CLUB

If you had visited a Latin club meeting during the school year you might have seen toga-covered, candle-bearing figures. This would have been one of several S.P.Q.R. meetings held according to the tradition of the Appleton High School Latin Club.

The formal initiation of new club members, a mothers' tea, and a farewell party for the seniors were among the activities of this organization. Projects featured in the club's program were an attractive Roman float in the homecoming parade and Christmas caroling in the A.H.S. halls.

SPANISH CLUB

Senoritas and senores of the A.H.S. Spanish Club made use of their knowledge of the language by presenting colorful skits, songs and dances at their monthly business meetings.

Other highlights of the year's program were the Mexican Posada for Christmas, the homecoming float, Spanish movies and a joint picnic with the German and French clubs.

Club officers were Bill Meisle, president; John McGowan, vice-president; Judy Anderson, secretary; Millie Bubolz, treasurer; Richard Hamilton, program chairman; Joanne Wichmann, assistant program chairman; Jackie Faulk, refreshment chairman; Patricia Ohde, assistant refreshment chairman; Roy Massey, sergeant-at-arms; with Mrs. Himebaugh as club adviser.

CURTAIN CALL ACTING

With "God bless us, every one" still being echoed by members of the cast, the curtain fell on "The Christmas Carol." It was the first time an evening performance was given for adults. Hard work by cast and directors alike and many good times at rehearsals combined to make the play one of the most outstanding in Curtain Call history.

Included in club activities were short skits, four one-act plays presented as assembly programs and the annual banquet.

Officers for the year were Don Lorenz, president; Jack Close, vice president; Judy Anderson, secretary; and Mary Zanzig, treasurer. Miss Ruth McKennan and Mrs. Virley Brown were faculty advisers.

The homogeneity

Officers Douglass, Schlafke, Fraser and Meisle plan exciting band activities.

"Play What You See And Don't Play What You Don't See," one of the band mottos, shows that the spirit that is found in band makes it more than just another class. With every band member working hard to achieve the mutual goal, the band has had another outstanding year. Having an exceedingly large group of 112 members, Mr. Frank Comella has led his band in two school concerts and the Christmas and spring concerts. In the fall, the band gave a half-time show for the homecoming game and marched in the parade. At the other home games, they provided a great deal of school spirit with their music. When basketball season came, several band members formed the pep band under Mr. Comella's direction. In the spring, the band traveled to Neenah for the music tournament. Solos and ensembles competed, several going on to the state tournament. The band also marched in the Lawrence homecoming, the Memorial Day and Flag Day parades. The real highlight of the spring, however, was the purchase of new uniforms in the traditional blue and gold.

Band activities haven't been limited to the field of music though, and throughout the year there have been banquets, skating parties, caroling, and picnics.

A smaller, select group, composed of forty-five members, the Bandette, practiced more advanced music. They represented the band at King, Wisconsin, where a concert was given for the veterans.

The officers were Bill Meisle, president; Sandy Schlafke, vice-president; Sally Fraser, secretary; and Ed Douglass, treasurer.

The annual Christmas concert marked the debut of this year's singing group. The student body had its first glimpse of the chorus at an assembly program presented shortly after the concert.

Many other activities were included in this year's program. A bit of Christmas cheer was spread by carolers during Christmas vacation, and spring was ushered in by the annual Spring Concert. Included in the winter's activities was an appearance at

Melody in Strings

Woodwind, brass, and percussion sections comprising full orchestra met on Wednesday noons under the direction of Mr. Anthony Bacich.

Hard practice and constant drill resulted in exceptional Christmas and spring concerts. Participation in the music tournament at Neenah in which solos, duets, and other ensembles were entered for valuation, was another of the year's activities.

Mary Root, president; Joan Gilbert, vice-president; and Marilyn Saiberlich, secretary-treasurer organized the annual Christmas party and picnics in addition to the year's program.

"The tone flows from here," says Mr. Bacich to orchestra officers Joan Gilbert, Marilyn Saiberlich, Mary Root.

GRIDIRON CLASSICS

Surprises can happen and forecasters can be wrong! This was proved by the Terrors, who were picked for the cellar in the Fox River Valley Conference in '54 season. After ending up in the basement last year, things looked dim for the fans and the players. However, the Dillonmen did not give up and, like real sportsmen, fought with all the spirit they had. At the end of the season they were rewarded for their hard work by finishing in fifth place, only one game out of the first division. This 1954 Terror

Squad was a team that more than satisfied the fans and student body of their school.

Perhaps the highlight of the season came on a Friday night midway in the season, when the Dillonmen traveled to City Stadium, home of the Packers, to play the highly rated Green Bay East Red Devils. That was the game in which the Orange and Blue toppled East in the Fox River Valley Conference upset of the year. Here is a recap of the story and color of a fine season.

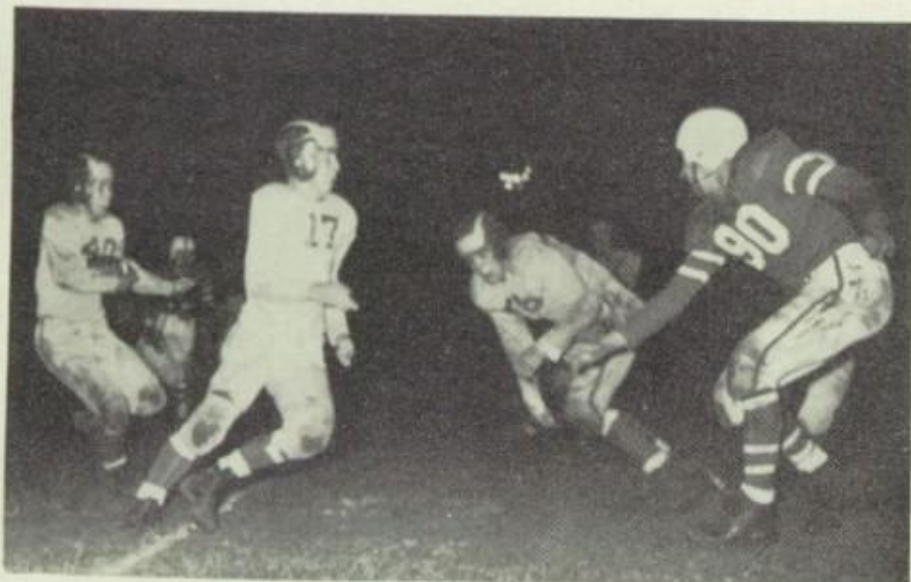

Jubilant Terrors after walloping Fondy are Louis Horn (18), Jim Tollefson (52), Jim Maahs (13) and Jerry Johnson (40).

With the blocking of Odegaard (17) and Schwendler making a large opening, Jerry Johnson slams into the East line.

MENASHA. The Terrors opened their season at Butte des Morts Field against their old rivals from Menasha. Appleton jumped off to a quick lead on a pass from Bob Jobe to Jim Maahs. From there on, the game was strictly a defensive battle. Both teams threatened many times, but the soggy turf and tight defensive lines prevented any further scoring. The final score was 7-0, a perfect ending for a tight, suspenseful season-opener.

FOND DU LAC. The Orange and Blue opened their conference season with a smashing 33-7 victory over Fondy. The Whiting Field fans were thrilled time after time as the Terrors exploded with truly spectacular offensive play. Sophomore Jim Schulze started the scoring by going through tackle for 4 yards after setting up a touchdown with a 28-yard jaunt. Fondy came right back to score and make a tie game. The Terrors went ahead for keeps on a 27-yard run by Schulze. Beautiful scythelike blocking produced the next two Terror scores on spectacular runs of 96 yards by Schulze and a 61-yard scamper by Jim Kirkland. Austin Cotton closed the Terror scoring with a thrilling 96-yard play.

SHEBOYGAN NORTH. The Terrors played host to Sheboygan North, and the Golden Raiders, led by Tom Ahl, jumped off to a quick 13-0 first period lead. However, the A.H.S. boys fought back. A 3-yard dive by Jerry Johnson and an end run good for 10 yards by Bob Jobe put the Terrors back in the game and tied the score at halftime. The second half was a "rock 'em sock 'em" affair until Ahl broke through the Appleton line for 60 yards and a touchdown. The terrors were unable to score and were defeated, 19-13.

GREEN BAY EAST. The inspired Terrors moved on to East to play one of the state's best teams. The Appleton line led by Co-Captains Carl Schwendler and Jim Maahs along with Marv Hinzman, Hans Moede, Carl Piette and Lou Mueller displayed one of the greatest defensive shows in conference history. East played an equally good defensive game. Then with a fourth down in the third quarter, Dick Odegard heaved a beautiful pass from the East 11 yard line to Jim Maahs who made a magnificent catch in the end zone. Jim Meyer booted the extra point as the Terrors upset East in a great game.

OSHKOSH. The Homecoming game was a battle between the Terrors and the Oshkosh Indians, but it wasn't Appleton's day. Oshkosh with its big fullback, Dave Krause, completely dominated play throughout the whole game. The Dillonmen suffered their worst defeat of the season, 25-0.

SHEBOYGAN CENTRAL. The hot and cold Appleton eleven got back on the winning track by slamming Central 23-0. Cotton led off the scoring with a buck from the one yard line. A 27-yard pass from Jobe to Maahs led to another Appleton score. In the second half Jobe threw another touchdown pass to Cotton, good for 27 yards. The Orange and Blue also scored a safety as they blocked a Central punt in the end zone. Jim Meyer added three conversions to finish the scoring.

GREEN BAY WEST. The Terrors invaded West Stadium only to go down to defeat 26-0. Actually the Appleton gridders played a much better game than the score indicates, but they simply couldn't find that final punch.

MANITOWOC. The Terrors closed their season against the visiting Shipbuilders. Manitowoc had scored two touchdowns before Dick Odegard was able to penetrate the Shipbuilder goal on a 2-yard plunge. Manty scored again in the final quarter. The Terrors were unable to hit paydirt, and the final score was 19-7.

At the annual football dinner, Jim Maahs was named "Most Valuable Player." The team elected Jim Coenen and Jerry Johnson as co-captains for the '55 season.

Carl Schwendler and Dick Piette were honored by being named to the All-Conference first team.

The future looks bright for Terror football fans as Coach Dillon has many returning lettermen and many bright sophomore prospects.

End Jim Reetz maneuvers between two East defenders in an effort to catch a long pass near the East end zone.

Pile-driving fullback Jim Kirkland smashes through the opponents' line and roars into the secondary for a long gain.

BUSY B's

Salentine appears in trouble as Jooss attempts to clear the way.

Appleton High School's J. V. gridders started their five-game campaign in a slow fashion as they went down to defeat in their first two encounters. However, the Bees rallied in the remaining games to close the season with three victories against two setbacks. As the season progressed, Coach Gus Ediger's ironmen corrected the defensive gaps which had plagued them in their initial losses.

The "B" gridders opened at Manitowoc. The host team scored the first two times it had the ball. Appleton's lone touchdown came on a pass from Bob Hietpas to Bruce Kobs. Manitowoc scored two more tallies in ruining the opening bid of the Junior Terrors. The final score was 27-6. For their second game, Appleton invaded Green Bay East. The Junior Terrors couldn't seem to get the breaks as they again finished on the short end of the score—this time the count being to the tune of 18-7.

WINNING STREAK

The Junior Terrors hit the win column when they trekked to Oshkosh for their third encounter. The Appleton defense did not permit the Junior Indians to penetrate the Appleton's 30. Lineman Jack Rademacher's recovering of an end zone fumble, a 20-yard pass play from Bruce Kobs to Jerry Olm, and a 30-yard interception return by Kobs were the three plays that gave Appleton an 18-0 victory. The next contest saw the Menasha Jayvees invade the lair of the Junior Terrors. The contest was mainly a defensive battle with each team frequently exchanging possession of the ball. Appleton's touchdown was set up on a 50-yard run by Boyd Grimmer, which placed the ball on Menasha's 15. From there, an aerial from Bob Hietpas to Bruce Kobs gave Appleton their touchdown. Jerry Olm booted the pigskin through the uprights for the extra point. A tough Appleton team held the foe to one T. D. and eventually won 7-6. In their closing game the Appleton Jayvees played host to Green Bay West. Boyd Grimmer scored Appleton's first touchdown on a 25-yard reverse. The next time Appleton had possession, Bob Hietpas took it over in two plays from the West. The third touchdown was scored by Hietpas again after two tries from the ten. Jerry Olm kicked the only extra point of the day. Appleton's defense again played stalwart ball as the Junior Terrors closed with a 19-0 triumph.

CLASSY CAGERS

Appleton's 1954-55 basketball squad posted a respectable 14-7 season's record. Most of these losses could have been Terror wins, for in their five defeats in conference play, the Terrors lost by a total difference of 19 points, an average of less than four points per game. As it was, Appleton was a serious threat, game after game.

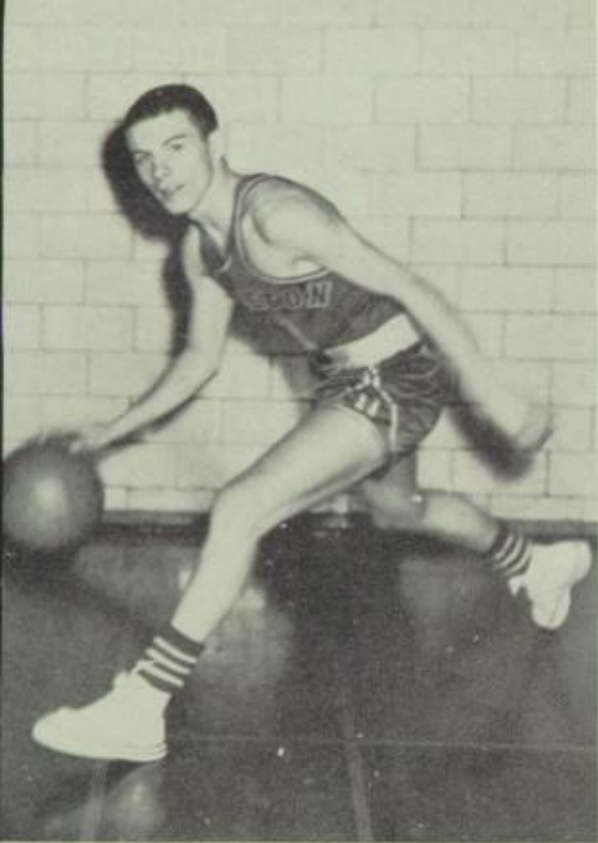

The Terrors' offense was one of the tops in the league. In 21 games, they rolled in a total of 1309 points, an average of 62.33 points per game—the highest in the history of A. H. S.

The Emanuelmen came very close to the magic forty percent mark in field goal shooting and the Terrors put the bonus rule to good use, as they hit for a sizzling 62.5 per cent from the charity line.

FOND DU LAC—Appleton inaugurated its league play by slamming the weak Cardinal quintet, 69-37. Steinwedel led all scoring with 19 points.

SHEBOYGAN NORTH—The Golden Raiders, with their best team in years, won 54-50 over a cold Terror team that got only one goal in the final period. Close notched 18 points, 14 of them on charity tosses. Maahs tallied 14 points.

GREEN BAY EAST—Coach Emanuel's proteges got back on the winning trail with a 57-50 victory. Krabbe led the balanced Terror attack with 16 points, which included a scorching 10-for-10 from the foul line.

OSHKOSH—Appleton nipped previously undefeated Oshkosh 47-46. Krabbe was the hero in the win, as he scored the final points, including the tying and winning margins with two free throws, when only three seconds remained in the game.

SHEBOYGAN CENTRAL—The Terrors shot for a red-hot 43.6 percent average from the field to beat offensive-minded Central at its own game, 59-52.

GREEN BAY WEST—The Terrors made it four straight conference wins by defeating West, 62-55. The Terrors scoring balance again profited, with each of the starters scoring between eight and thirteen points.

MANITOWOC—The Terrors lost 59-55, as they finished the first half of the campaign at Manty. In the final three minutes, the Terrors uncorked a 12 point comeback led by Krabbe, but the Ships always kept a step ahead. Wadsworth and Close each collected 16 points.

FOND DULAC—Appleton set an all-time school record for points in this F. R. V. C. game and shot field goals at an amazing 58.5 per cent in trampling Fondy, 86-65.

SHEBOYGAN NORTH—The Terrors revenged their loss at North with a 49-45 win. During the game, the score was knotted 17 times before Appleton pulled ahead for good with 3' 15" remaining.

GREEN BAY EAST—Appleton blew what seemed to be a safe 14-point lead with ten minutes to play, to drop a heart breaking 68-67 contest. Wadsworth netted 20 points.

OSHKOSH—Though Appleton outshot Oshkosh from the field 27 baskets to 22 for a dazzling 42.2 per cent rate, superior height and 34 free throws gave Oshkosh the nod, 78-73. Close garnered 21 points and Wadsworth tossed in 18.

SHEBOYGAN CENTRAL—Appleton again outclassed the Redmen, this time by a 61-44 count. Steinwedel led the Terrors scoring parade with 19 points.

GREEN BAY WEST—The Terrors again turned back the Wildcats for the sixth straight year, this time to the tune of 67-63. Steinwedel, with 29 points, established the highest A. H. S. individual scoring feat in two seasons.

MANITOWOC—The Terror cagers concluded their conference actions, bowing to the Shipbuilders in a thrilling overtime battle, 68-63. The score at the end of regulation time was 60-60. Close hit the cords for 21 points, 13 of them on free throws.

In post season action, Appleton won two and lost one to take the Menasha-Kimberly regional consolation championship of the annual WIAA basketball tournament.

Appleton was the only team to place five men on the Fox River Valley All-Conference teams for 1954-55. Krabbe made the all-conference first team as a guard. Wadsworth gained a forward berth on the second team, while Jack Close, center; Bob Steinwedel, forward and Jim Maahs, guard, received honorable mention.

Close and Maahs were chosen by their teammates as honorary co-captains for 1945-55 season. Close also received the most valuable player award. Besides Close and Maahs, Coach Emanuel awarded monograms to seniors, Wadsworth, Krabbe, Steinwedel, Jobe, and West. Two juniors, Lou Horn and Jim Ray were also letter winners as was senior manager Jim Bartz.

FUTURE STARS

Ulwelling displays his jump shot.

The Junior Terrors finished their 1954-55 campaign breaking even in eighteen games. The team, under Coach John Graff, had hot and cold streaks throughout the season. On some occasions they were able to beat anyone and other times just the opposite was true. Their conference record was also even with seven wins and seven defeats.

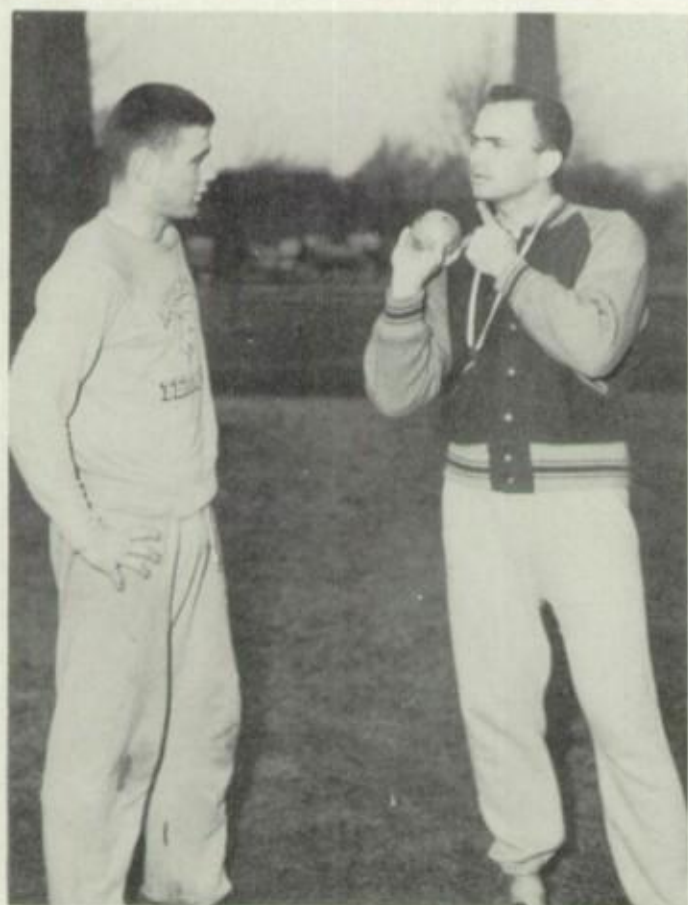

The Sparkplugs of this Jayvee team were its two speedy guards, Jim Schulze and Dave Ehlke. Schulze led the team in scoring, followed by forward, Mike Ulwelling. The other regular forward spot was occupied by either Jerry Olm or Mike Wenzel. Jim Rudolf and Jerry Verrier shared the center position. Coach Graff used many different combinations during the season, looking for a winning team.

The conference championship was won by Sheboygan North, who was undefeated in fourteen games, followed by Green Bay West with an eleven-win and three-loss record. The Junior Terrors tied with Oshkosh for fourth place.

"Watch me son, and you'll set a new record," is what Coach Exner could be saying to prospective shot putter Bill Fraser.

Bob Jungers and Captain Austin Cotton work their legs into shape.

Up and over goes Louie Horn.

SPEEDY SPRINTERS

With a shortage of returning lettermen, Coach Don Exner heavily relied on the junior and sophomore tracksters to produce consistent point winners. The Terror Thinclads led by Captain Austin Cotton opened the season's events at the West Relays in Madison.

The team's mainstays included Carl Piette, hurdles; Jerry King, pole vault; Bob Jungers and Bill Dohr, sprinters.

Among the leading junior candidates were Hans Moede, John Jooss, Harry Eskew, Jerry Johnson and Louie Horn.

Jim Fisher, John Yonan, Bob Peterson, Mike Ulwelling and Jim Schulze were the leading prospects in a huge sophomore crop.

A class meet was introduced this year to help Coach Exner pick out his big men. All three classes had four men in each event.

In the Madison Relays the Terrors for the second successive year placed fourteenth, their six points having been earned on two fourth places in the medley relay and by Jerry King in the vault.

Appleton as usual faced a very difficult schedule. In addition to the State meet, conference track and relay meet, and the Madison West Relays, the Orange and Blue met Manitowoc, Stevens Point and Green Bay East and West.

STRING ALONG WITH THE NETTERS

With the appearance of spring, the Terror netters took to the courts. Coach Ade Dillon had only one returning letterman, sophomore Daril Riley. The lettermen, who were lost by graduation, were Dave Kneip, Bill Schmidt, Ralph Schutz, and Bill Weiland. Seniors Dave Krause and Ben DeDecker, who served on last year's squad and displayed steady improvement, were billed for top spots. Junior Hyman Brudnick and freshman Chuck Riley were other likely prospects, in the pre-season outlook. An encouraging number of boys greeted Coach Dillon at the dawn of the season.

Home and away matches took place with Green Bay East, Neenah, and Menasha. The Terrors also played Manitowoc and Oshkosh, each in a match. Appleton finished its campaign competing in the conference meet at Manitowoc on May 21. The Terrors placed fifth in last season's meet.

BOYS' BOWLING

For twenty-five winter weeks the Arcade Bowling Alleys was the scene of many thrills and much excitement. Those sharing in the fun were the boys who participated in the Friday night bowling tournament.

The league, which is a member of the American Junior Bowling Congress, consisted of eight teams which were sponsored by Appleton merchants and businessmen. This was a leading activity in the intramural program. This year's officers were: Ronnie Kositske, president; Dennis Daniels, vice-president; Phil Freiberg, secretary; Jim Drall, publicity and Jerry Krull, typist.

The 1954-55 season was highlighted by the Christmas mixed doubles tournament and the all-star bowling event, which pitted twenty students against the faculty.

SATURDAY MORNING BASKETBALL

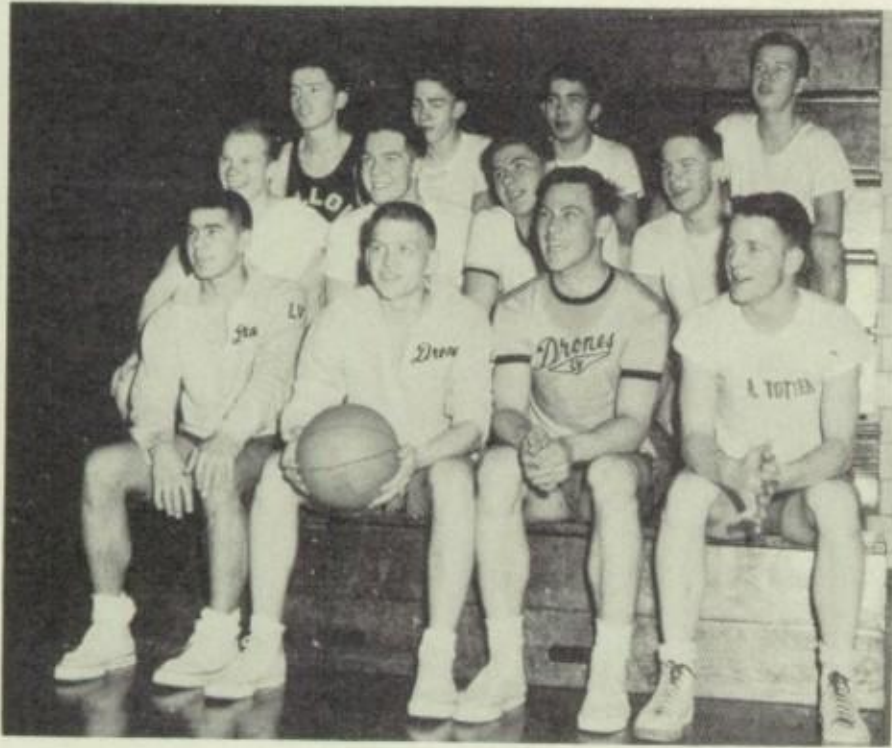

Getting up early on Saturday morning, displaying much pep and energy and practicing good sportmanship are among the requirements for team participation in Saturday morning basketball.

For ten winter weeks, the American and National Leagues, into which the various teams were divided, competed in many hard fought battles. Each team was sponsored by an Appleton merchant who paid the entrance fee.

The league under the direction of Coach Lawrence Witzke, was a part of the intramural program and open to all sophomore, junior and senior boys except those who played varsity basketball.

Top scorer for the National League was Dick Mader with 154 points followed by Dick Odegard with 153 points. Don Otto with 205 points followed by Don Zuelzke with 136 points headed the American League List.

Topping the National League was the Police Team with a record of 10 wins and no losses. An identical record was compiled in the American League by Schiedemeyers.

Girls find recreation

Hard-packed thrills and high-powered enthusiasm were shared by all who participated in the Girls' Athletic Association this year. The girls met during the noon hours and each Friday afternoon for an exciting game of basketball, volleyball, softball, or tennis. The members also were in charge of the concession stand at the basketball games.

The sports heads were: basketball, Mona Olson and Vera Krueger; volleyball, Peggy Frieders and Evelyn Bjerkvold; softball, Beatrice Le Moine and Joanne Boettcher; tennis, Mary Kneip and Helen La Violette. Miss Pauline Gaertner and Miss Patricia Gibbons were the club advisers.

"Strike! or at least a spare!" was the prayer every girl breathed as her ball rolled down the bowling alley. The tension was great each Monday and Wednesday afternoon after school as the members of the Appleton High School Bowling Club met at the Arcade Bowling Alleys for a session of their favorite sport. In the fall, beginners were taught the fundamentals of the game and the more advanced bowlers worked to reach the perfect score of 300. Excitement ran especially high during the Christmas holidays, when the annual mixed doubles were held.

The bowling heads were Janice Hast and Sue Van Ryzin. The club was under the advisership of Miss Patricia Gibbons and Miss Pauline Gaertner.

CURLING CLUB

Although the Curling Club has been in existence for some five years, this is the first year that it has appeared in the yearbook.

The members of the club met every Tuesday for ten weeks at the Appleton Curling Club. It is part of the intramural program and under the able supervision of Coach Lawrence Witzke.

The curling league is composed of six rinks. The captain of each rink is called the "Skip." The skips in this year's contest were: Austin Cotton, Bill Dohr, Dave Krause, Jim Crane, Ed Schrage, and Bob LaRose and Ben DeDecker, who formed the "LaDe" rink.

The rink that came out on top in league competition won the Steinberg Event. Each member of the winning rink had his name put on a plaque which hangs in Coach Witzke's office. At the end of league play, all teams participated in a bonspiel.

TUMBLING CLUB

The Tumbling Club found more than enough to keep themselves busy. Beginning with ground tumbling, they worked up to such things as the parallel and horizontal bars, flying rings, horses, and the trampoline. Besides these body-building activities, the club provided sparkling entertainment between the halves of several basketball games.

The Tumbling Club is an example of the intramural program at its best with the members participating solely for the fun and enjoyment they find. There is no formal organization within the club. Members are not required to attend meetings.

With Coach David Black as adviser, the club, consisting of sophomore, junior, and senior boys and girls, met every Monday during the basketball season.

Their aim is high

If you are an aspiring William Tell, the Archery Club is the organization for you. A perfect opportunity for having fun and gaining practical experience with the bow and arrow is provided.

The Club, which this year boasted a membership of some sixty students, started in the fall under the direction of Coach David Black. The first few meetings were devoted to the fundamentals of archery. Learning to aim and shoot was the next step.

The newcomers to the sport can develop archery skills, the experienced can become experts and all members will acquire a worthwhile future hobby, thus carrying out the aims of this organization.

Emcees of "Toast of the Town" Mike Ulwelling and Jim Wink.

W.A.H.S.--TV presents

Sparked by emcees Jim Wink and Mike Ulwelling, sixty-five members of the class of 1957 developed a show that proved their talents, without a doubt, to faculty and upper-classmen alike. They chose Ed Sullivan's "Toast of the Town" as their theme and a variety show was created worthy of its name.

The show opened with a ten-girl interpretation of "The Captain Hal Show" and continued with "Goldy Locks and the Three Spacemen." Next on the program were several dance numbers which ranged from the grace and beauty of modern dance, to the highland fling and the capers of delightful horses.

Received well by the audience were an outstanding acrobatic number by Diane De Shaney, a chorus number "On Top of Old Smoky," featuring Daril Riley as soloist, a comedy skit by Sue Briese and Ricky McIntyre, and Jerry Lecy's own impersonation of Liberace.

This excellent show which was produced and directed by Mr. Jack Burroughs and Miss Ruth McKennan with the help of senior students, closed on the notes of an original version of "School Days."

Go Terrors Go!

Homecoming, a high light of the school year, started Thursday October 16 with our first pep session. Humorous skits, songs, cheers and rousing band music stimulated typical A.H.S. school spirit. Saturday morning sixteen floats representing various clubs and organizations bravely paraded College Avenue despite the wintry chill in the air. Orchesis took first place honors in the serious division and "Clarion" walked off with the coveted blue ribbon in the humorous category.

Excitement ran high that afternoon at Whiting Field but Appleton suffered a crushing defeat from the Oshkosh Indians.

By evening the Appleton student body rallied and a large crowd enjoyed the climaxing dance. Those dapper young men of humor, Bob Schloss and Richard Hamilton emceed the evening's entertainment of school talent.

Through the co-operation of the team, faculty, cheerleaders, band and student committees, Appleton High School experienced a successful 1954 homecoming.

"Aw, come on, give us a hompom," say Bruce Benson and Tom Wadsworth to committee members Pat Piepenburg, Anne Boronow, Mary Schommer, Nancy De Noble, and Jo Anne Steege.

The Orchesis float predicts our victory.

The Best

"My poor—little brother Denny!" exclaims the scheming Lynn Nelson to the surprised Roy Stohlman, while Roger Hamilton watches, quite puzzled.
—"Thank You Doctor"

Nurse Molly O'Keefe lets out a terrified scream when the mental patient Eric Erdman turns upon her.
—"Thank You Doctor"

The first in Curtain Call's series of one-act plays was a farce comedy entitled, "Thank You Doctor." Mrs. Lester, Lynn Nelson, a positive and vivacious woman, had developed a fool-proof scheme to steal a strand of pearls. She invents an imaginary brother whom she tries to commit to a mental institution in her efforts to divert the guilt. The action of this play takes place in the office of Dr. Gurney. The doctor, played by Roger Hamilton, tries to help Mrs. Lester with her problem. Throughout the play a detective, Eric Erdman, disguised as a mental patient, tries to track down Mrs. Lester with evidence. His antics as a mental patient cause many frightening moments for the doctor's capable assistant, Molly O'Keefe, and provide the humor for this play. In the end Mrs. Lester, who tries to convince the doctor that the jeweler delivering the pearls is her brother, is finally caught in her own web.

A lonely country inn and mysterious beckoning music drifting across the windswept moor provide the setting for "Will o' the Wisp." As the scene opens, a feeble minded old woman, Neal Dohr, is talking to herself and to a strange, ragged mute, Polly McGraw, who huddles on the hearth. A sophisticated city lady, Janet Gresenz, and her little maid, Sue LeVee, enter. The lofty lady has come to discover her husband's attachment to the inn. Shortly after she retires that evening, the mystic solitude of a moorland night descends. Suddenly, a weird bewitching light fills the room as haunting music re-sounds throughout the house. It is not until the mute starts a rhythmic dance to this mysterious melody that the audience realizes that she is the "Will o' the Wisp!" At this point, the haughty guest, seemingly hypnotized by the "Will o' the Wisp," drifts out onto the sleeping moors, despite the protests of the terrified maid, never to return. . . .

"So what's to become of me now," remarks the simple little old lady, Neal Dohr, in "Will O' the Wisp."

"Stolen Identity" is a heartwarming story of a lonely soldier boy. Bruce Benson played this lonely fellow who imposed on the McKee family as their long lost son Brad. Trigger Pomroy, played by John McGowan, is Brad's close friend and the only one who knows his real identity. The soldier falls in love with his supposed sister Mary, Joanne Wichman, who secretly suspects that Brad is not her real brother. The play ends quite happily when Brad and Mary become engaged. Other persons of the cast were: Mary Sue Klein as the patient and trusting Mrs. McKee; Toni Schmirler in the part of the gay neighbor girl Stella; Milly Bubolz as Brad's former girl, and the loquacious newspaper reporter, Janet Kohler.

Credit for the success of these one-act plays goes to Mrs. Virley Brown, director; Neal Dohr, student director of "Stolen Identity;" Mr. Jack Burroughs, producer; and Mrs. Gene Nienow, make-up.

"I didn't know brothers could be so nice," Jojo Wichman informs Bruce Benson in "Stolen Identity."

"Don't go, it's the 'Will O' the Wisp!' " warns the terrified maid, Sue LeVee, to her mistress, Janet Gresenz.

"You two are coming with me, like it or not!" orders high-hatted John McGowan to Milly Bubolz and Toni Schmirler. —"Stolen Identity"

Appleton High School's traditional serious declamation contest was presented on November 17 under the direction of Miss Ruth McKennan.

Mary Root was awarded first place for her presentation of "Bumbo, the Clown," a touching story of a little boy's adoration for a circus clown, written by Lawrence Gibson.

"A Pair of Shoes," by Herbert Hagedorn, was the dramatic narration of an Italian shoemaker's joys and sorrows. This was a heart-warming interpretation given by Edith Esbensen.

The solemn portrayal of a heroic war nurse's unusual courage was Sue LeVee's declamation. It was entitled "The Nurse Who Forgot Fear" by Irving Elman and Arnold Schulman.

"Michael," a story of an orphan English boy and his devoted guardian, was written by Josephine Bacon. The tragedies of this little boy during the war was the serious theme of Mary Edge's declamation.

Neal Dohr gave an excellent cutting from Verne Powers' "High Window." This was a suspense-filled drama of an old woman who blamed her son for the dreadful crime that she had committed.

Full of wit and

The humorous declamation contest, which is also a tradition, was presented on December first under the direction of Mr. Kenneth Sager.

For his outstanding presentation of "New Yawk," Bill Meisle was awarded first place. This semi-original declamation was a riotous narration of a quaint old Englishman's adventures in the big city.

Barbara Rosenberg's superb personifications of "Gertrude the Governess" from the laughable Stephen Leacock essay, portrayed sophisticated English nobility.

"Number Please," by Edna Means, was an amusing story of an innocent telephone operator's trials and tribulations with many impatient callers. This gay comedy was interpreted by Nancy C. Miller.

The slapstick comedy presented by Ann Peotter was entitled "Tombstones and Tomfoolery," by L. R. Linsenmayer. This was a tale of how a radio show tried to sell none other than luminous tombstones!

In the laughable declamation, "Belvedere," by Glen Davenport, Mary Halverson portrayed the greatly accomplished gentleman. The events in this man's family life were quite hilarious.

Christmas!

Bah!

Humbug!

A miserly old man, made famous by Charles Dickens, came to life on the Appleton High School stage, on December 16, 1954.

Scrooge lived again his drab, desolate life. His heart, as usual, was as hard and cold as a cement block. Poor Bob Cratchit was fully aware of that fact, too.

But over night Ebenezer Scrooge became a new and lovable old man. His heart and eyes were enlightened, and he gladly joined the truly human race.

What changed Scrooge? Why, everyone knows! He had a visit from three ethereal ghosts; the Ghost of Christmas Past; the Ghost of Christmas Present; and the Ghost of Christmas Future. With them he took three heart-rending trips to each respective time.

The cast included: Bill Meisle as Scrooge; Bob Sigman, narrator; Bill Dohr, Bob Cratchit; Eric Erdman, Fred; Richard Hamilton, the gentleman; Mona Olson, the housekeeper; Mark Cohen, Marley's Ghost; Colleen Christenson, Christmas Past; Jim Crane, Fezziwig; Jerry Lecy, Wilkins; Bob Schloss, young Scrooge; Joanne Zimmerman, Scrooge's sweetheart; Roger Hamilton, sweetheart's husband; Pat Ohde, child; Janet Koller, older daughter; Ann Boronow, small daughter; Mary Sue Klein, Christmas Present; Janice Defferding, Mrs. Cratchit; John McGowan, Peter Cratchit; Nancy Goehler, Martha Cratchit; Judy Polisky, Belinda Cratchit; Richard McIntyre, Tiny Tim; Ken Captain, Topper; Margie Schmeige, Fred's wife; Betty Jenson, Christmas Future; Bruce Benson, First Gossiper; Don Lorenz, Second Gossiper; Ben De Decker, pawnbroker; Bob Cottrel, turkey boy.

Directors of the production were Miss Ruth McKennan, dramatic director and Mr. Jack Burroughs, technical director. Mrs. Gene Nienow handled the make-up.

"Ebenezer Scrooge! Beware!" Mark Cohen and Bill Meisle.

Words from the Wise

First place in the annual William Heiss Oratory Contest was won by Robert Sigman. In his oration entitled "Co-existence or Non-existence," Bob said that a third world war in which there can be no victors, only survivors, must be avoided by the free world if we hope to save our civilization. As winner of the contest, Bob will have his name engraved in the Hall of Fame.

Mary Lee Miller discussed the problems of racial prejudice which confront the negro today.

The different functions of the home in the life of an individual were pointed out by David Otte in his speech "The Home and the Family."

"The Case for American Youth" was the title of Richard Hamilton's oration in which he showed that the statistical rise in teen-age crime was largely because of population increases rather than an evidence of the degeneration of youth as a whole.

John Harriman, in his speech "Ways and Means," said that nations, like people, should not become so engrossed in the ways they employ to obtain their ends that they lose sight of their original goals.

For participation in the oratory contest each student was awarded the usual forensic pin as a symbol of recognition for his performance.

The Heiss Oratory Contest, established in 1916, was founded in memory of William Heiss, the first Appleton High School student to lose his life in World War I.

Mr. Kenneth Sager coached the students in the composition and delivery of their orations for this contest, held on January 18 in the auditorium.

Off the Cuff

On March 3, 1955, the annual Bolton-Roth extemporaneous speaking recital was given. The participants had spent five weeks of extensive research on current affairs. One hour before the recital each contestant selected one of the five topics he drew and prepared his talk.

First place in the recital was won by Richard Hamilton who will have his name engraved on the Hall of Fame. His topic was "Asia, Playing with Fire." Hamilton stressed the importance of aiding the Asiatics economically rather than militarily because of the life and death race against communism.

Peter Davis, in his speech, "UN Recognition of Red China," pointed out significant arguments for and against admitting Red China to the UN.

By citing the possible dangers and horrors of an unexpected atomic attack, Roy Stohlman forcefully emphasized U. S. preparedness in his talk on "Civil Defense."

"The Theory of Communism" was Bill Mielke's subject. He impressively contrasted the theories of communism with communism in actual practice in the Soviet Union.

Wally Rugland drew the question of rearming Germany. His view was that past experience with the aggressive nature and insatiable appetite of Russia has shown the necessity of this rearmament and subsequently, military aid from Germany.

Mr. Exner coached the students during their weeks of careful study. In recognition of their intensive study and preparation, each student was awarded the forensic pin for his participation.

On March 26, the senior class presented the comedy hit, "Mr. Peepers" by Marrijane and Joseph Hayes. Mr. Peepers, the shy, young biology teacher, falls in love at first sight with Miss Remington, the new school nurse. His attempts to date her for the school dance are foiled by the handsome history teacher, Harvey Weskit.

To add to the intrigue, Betsy Williams, a student, is infatuated with Mr. Peepers. She has violent hysterics and runs away after she discovers her sister Ann alone with Mr. Peepers. Betsy agrees to return if Mr. Gurney, the principal, fires Mr. Peepers. The play's climax comes when Peepers, forcefully denouncing Mr. Williams, resigns to accept a position with a seed company. The principal comes through, heartily agreeing with Peeper's opinion.

True to form, the comedy ends satisfactorily when Betsy is persuaded to come home and Mr. Peepers decides to remain a teacher and wins Miss Remington.

"That voice,—you,—Peepers?" Sigman, Meisle, Cohen

"Mr. Peepers, with my own sister! Let go of her!" Crane, Meisle, Peotter

At Last! Meisle, Root.

During and After Hours

Saddle-sore sophs from Wyoming (?) at pep session.

Swelled head—or normal? Bob Jobe is measured for his cap and gown.

Sandra Schlafke joins the distinguished ranks of the "Harleys."

Quite a collection! Observing the symbols of A.H.S. triumphs are Nancy Kriek, Mike Cochrane, John Mullen, and Joanie Boettcher.

Busy typists—working hard to gain that goal of speed and accuracy.

HONORS

*"Some with massive deeds and great,
Some with ornaments of rhyme."*

SEATED: Dittmer, Keating, B., Root, M., Lemke, S., McBain, Zanzig, Schlafke, Swan.
STANDING: DeDecker, Dohr, W., Cohen, Davis, P., Cotton, Zwerg, Schwendler, Thorson, Hamilton, Ri., Harriman.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Eighteen seniors of Appleton High School have been chosen by a secret ballot of the faculty as members of the National Honor Society. Selection was based on equal consideration of four qualities: leadership, character, scholarship and service. Each member has participated in extra-curricular activities showing leadership and service; the students are in the upper fourth of a graduating class of 387.

At the annual induction ceremony before an assembly of the entire student body on April 18, these students formally became members of the society after taking the oath lead by Mr. Hamann, and receiving membership certificates and pins. Mr. Witte introduced the inductees and Mr. Helble, whose message was "The Meaning of Honors." The significance of the society's symbol and ideals was then explained by Mr. Edge. Honored as guest speaker, Mrs. Myrl Davis spoke on the values of education in attaining honors.

Immediately following the ceremony the initiates and their parents were guests at the reception and traditional tea in the Early American Room.

Keating, B., Davis, P., Lemke, S., Thorson, Hamilton, Ri., Dittmer, Harriman.

SYLVESTER NIELSEN AWARD

The honor of being the top of one's class scholastically is recognized each year on Awards Day with the presentation of the Sylvester Nielsen gold pen and pencil sets.

The seniors of 1955 who completed seven semesters of work with a straight "H" average and graduated first in their class were: Peter Davis, Mary Dittmer, Richard Hamilton, John Harriman, Barbara Keating, Sandra Lemke and Terry Thorson. These students also had the added distinction of being chosen for the commencement program of the class of 1955.

CRAFTSMANSHIP SHIELD

John Harriman had the honor of receiving the highest award given to a senior student, the Craftsmanship Shield.

John was chosen by a secret ballot of the high school faculty. He was judged on the qualities of character, leadership, scholarship and service.

In his first year at A. H. S., John, as the outstanding sophomore, was awarded the Spector Trophy; as a junior he was a delegate to Badger Boys' State. He served on the Student Council three years and was also active in forensics, including oratory debate and extempore, for three years.

Among the other extra-curricular activities were: Camera Club, three years; Curtain Call Production, three years, serving as vice-president and president in his junior and senior years respectively; German Club, three years, acting as vice-president in his junior year, and Radio Forum Workshop, three years.

BADGER BOYS' AND GIRLS' STATES

Ten junior boys and two junior girls, sponsored by Appleton civic groups, will represent Appleton High School at Badger Boys' and Girls' States in Ripon and Madison, respectively. The session, organized by the American Legion and Auxiliary to acquaint American youth with our system of government, will include the establishing of a model "state" for eight days in June.

With each person assigned a political party, city and county, delegates will benefit from a program filled with campaign speeches and mock city, county and state governments.

Selected by the junior class on the basis of leadership, scholarship, good character, health and interest in American government, the boys chosen are: David Otte, Roy Stohlman, Louie Horn, Tom Becker, Jim Coenen, John McGowan, Jim Godfrey, John Mullen, Jerry Johnson and Jim Ray, with alternates, George Rehbein, John Jooss, Ronald Simon, Hans Moede and Bill Mielke. The girl delegates include Neal Dohr and Louise Putnam with Michele Mathews as alternate.

SEATED: Becker, T., Putnam, Mathews, M., Dohr, C., Stohlman.
STANDING: Johnson, J., McGowan, Rehbein, Ray, J., Mullen, J., Coenen, Horn, L., Godfrey, Otte.

Amelia Bubolz
Second year Spanish Award

Barbara Bailey
First year Spanish Award

SPANISH AWARDS

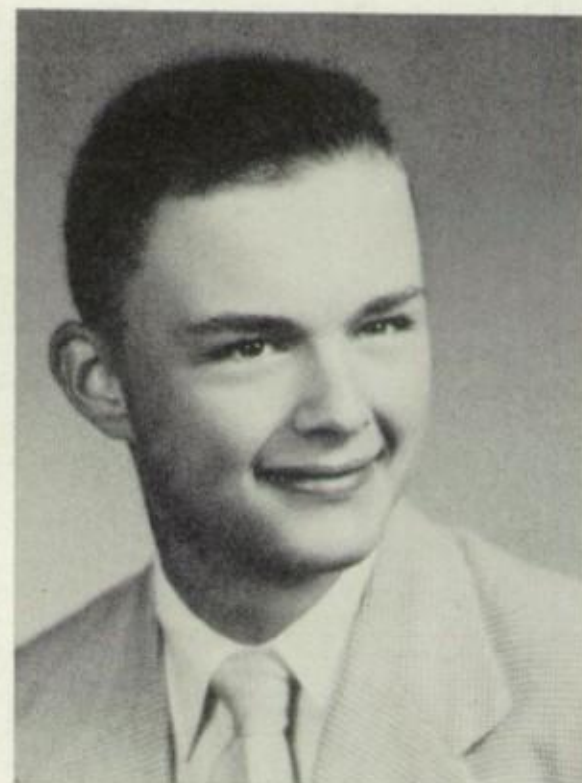

Each year the Spanish Club awards a gold medal to the outstanding student of second year Spanish, and a silver medal to the superior first year student. This award is given on the basis of scholarship, leadership and service to the club as well as the evidence of the student's intention to study further in this field.

Amelia Bubolz, a junior, received this year's gold medal for her achievements. In addition to being treasurer of Spanish Club and Ushers Club, Amelia has been very active in Curtain Call Acting.

The silver medal was presented to a sophomore, Barbara Bailey, who has enthusiastically accomplished the requirements. She has also been a faithful member of Orchesis and Curtain Call Production.

GERMAN AWARD

The honor of having his name engraved upon the German honor plaque this year goes to Terry Thorson who has completed two years of consistently superior work in German. As president of the German Club in his senior year, Terry was a prudent leader in the organization's activities. He was also a member of the Visual Aids Club for three years, serving as co-president in his last year. As a junior, Terry was elected to Badger Boys' State.

Terry Thorson

David Ehlke

SPECTOR AWARD

The outstanding sophomore student chosen annually by the homeroom sponsors and student councilors of his class is awarded the Spector Trophy. Honored this year was David Ehlke, chosen for his qualities of dependability, service, scholarship, leadership and character. David has been active in track and basketball. He has willingly and capably assumed responsibility in his many activities this year and well deserves this distinction.

D.A.R. AWARD

The vote of the senior class and the four qualities leadership, patriotism, dependability and service, determine the annual D.A.R. winner. This year's winner was Mary Root. Mary has been very active in school activities throughout her three years at A. H. S. She was secretary-treasurer of the Student Council, president of Ushers Club and Quill and Scroll Society, editor of the "Clarion" and Flag Raiser. Mary also attended Badger Girls' State in her junior year.

Mary Root

Barbara Keating

LATIN AWARD

The national honorary classical language fraternity of Lawrence College, Eta Sigma Phi, annually presents the Latin Award to a worthy senior. This year's recipient was Barbara Keating, who has shown consistent excellence in daily class preparation and has contributed generously to the Latin Club for three years, acting as secretary in her senior year. She has further distinguished herself at Appleton High School by serving for two years on the Student Council and the "Clarion" of which she was associate editor in her senior year. Barbara is also a member of Quill and Scroll.

BAUSCH AND LOMB SCIENCE AWARD

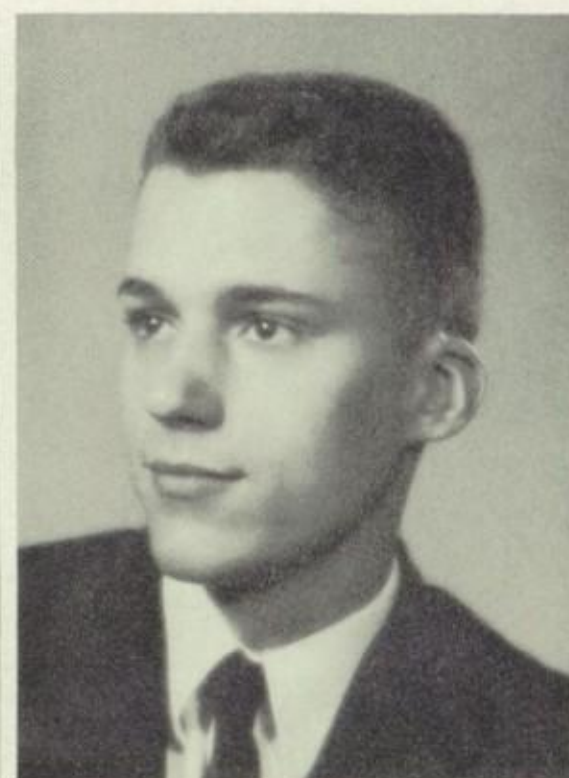

Robert Dimick and John Harriman were chosen to receive the bronze science medals this year. In the estimation of the science faculty, they have excelled through their study and experimentation beyond class requirements in biology, chemistry and physics.

John has participated in Junior Academy of Science for two years. He was one of 40 U. S. finalists in the Westinghouse Electric Science Talent Search selected to go to Washington, D. C. where his most recent infra-red spectrometer project won him a $100 award.

Radio repair and electronic experimentation are Bob's most recent interests. He has entered Junior Academy of Science for three years and also won honorable mention in the Westinghouse contest. Bob has contributed much to the German Club, Nature Club and Pep Band at high school.

Robert Dimick

John Harriman

Sandra Lemke

Richard Hamilton

V. F. W. CITIZENSHIP AWARD

For the first time, the Veterans of Foreign Wars Award has resulted in a tie. Sandra Lemke and Richard Hamilton each received a $25 war bond.

Sandra has been active in Curtain Call Acting, Ushers Club, Quill and Scroll, and took part in both oratory and extemporaneous speaking. She served as co-consul of Latin Club and co-president of Radio Forum Workshop as a senior.

Richard has participated in debate and oratory and was the winner of the Extemporaneous Speaking Contest for two years. Quill and Scroll, Radio Forum Workshop, Curtain Call Acting and Spanish Club are his other activities.

They have worked together as co-editors of the "Talisman." Sandra's and Richard's marked leadership qualities, good citizenship, scholarship and ability to accept responsibility make them worthy recipients of this award.

AMERICAN LEGION ATHLETIC AWARD

The outstanding senior athlete of the class of 1955 was Austin Cotton. For this distinction he received the American Legion Athletic Award, presented by the Johnston Blessman Post Number 38.

Austin was a member of Pep Band for three years, a top track man for three years, being co-captain in his senior year, and one of the few athletes to play varsity football all three of his years of high school. He was also active in the Bowling, Tumbling, Visual Aids, and Curling Clubs in his junior and senior years.

Austin Cotton

JoAnne Steege

JAYCETTE SCHOLARSHIP

The Junior Chamber of Commerce promotes interest in the field of nursing each year by giving a scholarship of $200 to a worthy senior girl planning to enter this profession.

JoAnne Steege has fulfilled the qualifications for this award by achieving excellence in scholarship. She has been a definite asset to the Latin Club, Quill and Scroll and has spent many hours working as subscription manager of the "Clarion" in her senior year. Dependability and leadership mark her as well-deserving of this honor.

HAUGEN NURSES' SCHOLARSHIP

One of the most valuable awards given each year is the Karl M. Haugen Nurses' Training Scholarship. The senior girl chosen most eligible for this year's award was Betty Brinkman. She will receive $150 to help pay her fees at Presbyterian Hospital, Chicago.

Betty has been an outstanding student scholastically and a member of Quill and Scroll. She also participated in Spanish Club for three years, served on the "Talisman" and in Nature Club in her junior and senior years. In her sophomore year, Betty was a member of the Square Dance Club, and a participant in Archery Club in her junior year.

Betty Brinkman

BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL WOMEN'S CLUB SCHOLARSHIP AWARD

The commercial major who was selected to receive the $100 Scholarship donated by the business women's organization of Appleton, was Elaine Kaezor. A committee of Commercial department teachers and women's club members chose this year's winner.

This scholarship is to be used to further the recipient's education in the business field during the following year. Scholarship, leadership, character and service are the characteristics considered in making this award.

Elaine Kaezor

FLAG-RAISERS

Each year the honor of flag raisers is given to a Senior boy and girl by vote of their class. This year the recipients were Mary Root and Carl Schwendler, who were chosen on the basis of character and citizenship. Mary attended Badger Girls' State, was president of Ushers Club, Quill and Scroll Society and editor of the "Clarion." She also received the D.A.R. award. Being outstanding in interscholastic athletics, a representative to Badger Boys' State and a member of the Student Council constituted some of Carl's activities.

Mary Root and Carl Schwendler

Barbara Keating

John Harriman

ELKS' CITIZENSHIP AWARD

A tie was the result of this year's contest for the Elks' Citizenship Award with John Harriman and Barbara Keating as the top scorers in a test on citizenship and the Constitution. The Elks' Lodge annually sponsors this contest which is open to all seniors. John and Barbara each received $75. The toss of a coin decided in favor of John Harriman to enter state competition for the $400 prize.

For John this is another award to be added to the long list of his accomplishments in many fields including science, forensics, service and scholastic leadership.

Barbara who received this year's Latin Award, was, in addition to the activities already mentioned, a participant in intramurals for three years, Radio Forum Workshop in her senior year and served as associate editor in her second year of work on the "Clarion."

MARX AWARDS

Prominence in intramural athletics, good sportsmanship and character constitute the qualifications for the Marx Award.

Evelyn Bjerkvold, a junior, earned this year's award for the girls. She has shown the fine qualities necessary to merit this honor by her active participation in Girls' Bowling and G. A. A. She also represented her homeroom as Student Council representative.

The boy chosen this year was Roland N. Kositzke who has shown his all around athletic ability and good sportsmanship. He was active in Bowling Club and intramurals for three years and belonged to the Square Dance Club for two years.

*You sweet little thing.
Have fun next year.*

Helen La Violette

A black and white photograph of a man and a woman in formal attire standing in a doorway, silhouetted against bright light. The man is on the left, wearing a suit and hat, and the woman is on the right, wearing a dress and hat. They are standing on a polished floor that reflects the light. The doorway is framed by dark wood or metal, and the walls on either side are made of brick.
